

Python for Data Analysis

By: Atefeh Khazaei

Week#3 – Practicals

Write a class called bankAccount which will have following attributes and methods:

Balance

ID

addMoney(): this method will deposit money to account withdrawMoney():this method will take out money from account (be sure that bank account has enough balance)

checkAccount(): this method will give information about account balance